ITINERARY

DAY 1: Embarkation in Ushuaia

Our voyage begins where the world drops off. Ushuaia, Argentina, reputed to be the southernmost city on the planet, is located on the far southern tip of South America. Starting in the afternoon, you embark from this small resort town on Tierra del Fuego, nicknamed "The End of the World," and sail the mountain-fringed Beagle Channel for the remainder of the evening.

DAY 2: Crossing the Drake Passage - Days 2 & 3

Over the next two days on the Drake Passage, we enjoy some of the same experiences encountered by the great polar explorers who first charted these regions: cool salt breezes, rolling seas, maybe even a fin whale spouting sea spray. After passing the Antarctic Convergence - Antarctica's natural boundary, formed when north-flowing cold waters collide with warmer sub-Antarctic seas - you are in the circum-Antarctic upwelling zone. Not only does the marine life change, the avian life changes too. Wandering albatrosses, grey-headed albatrosses, black-browed albatrosses, light-mantled sooty albatrosses, cape petrels, southern fulmars, Wilson's storm petrels, blue petrels, and Antarctic petrels are a few of the birds you might see.

DAY 4: Weddell Sea - Days 4 to 10

In the coming days, we will be exploring the Weddell Sea, a region celebrated for its awe-inspiring landscapes, towering icebergs, and intriguing historical sites. As we venture forth, we'll have the opportunity to witness some of Antarctica's most iconic wildlife, including whales, seals, and seabirds. Our voyage may lead us to several remarkable destinations - depending on local conditions- we might explore the Antarctic Sound, affectionately dubbed "Iceberg Alley," where colossal tabular icebergs drift majestically in the frigid waters. Then, we could journey to Brown Bluff, renowned for its sheer canyon walls, volcanic formations, and stunning vistas. Continuing our adventure, we might navigate through Herbert Sound, marveling at the breathtaking scenery of Naze Peninsula and Comb Ridge. We may also set foot on Devil Island, where rugged landscapes and sweeping panoramas await intrepid explorers. Lastly, we might venture into Erebus and Terror Gulf, immersing ourselves in the pristine wilderness of Antarctica's remote corners. Along the way, we'll soak in the untouched beauty of Vega Island and embrace the serenity of this remote, icy realm.

DAY 11: Crossing the Drake Passage - Days 11 & 12

Our return voyage is far from lonely. While crossing the Drake, we're again greeted by the vast array of seabirds remembered from the passage south. But they seem a little more familiar to us now, and us to them.

DAY 13: Disembark in Ushuaia

Even great adventures must eventually come to an end. It's now time to disembark in Ushuaia with memories that will accompany you wherever your next journey lies. Please note: Cruise itinerary is subject to change depending on weather conditions, ice conditions and other factors.
